Knowable Magazine

“What is known? What isn't known? Knowable Magazine, the digital publication from Annual Reviews, seeks to make that knowledge accessible to all. Knowable Magazine explores the real-world significance of scholarly work through a journalistic lens. We report on the current state of play across a wide variety of fields — from agriculture to high-energy physics; biochemistry to water security; the origins of the universe to psychology.”

<https://knowablemagazine.org/>

Medline Plus

“MedlinePlus is a service of the National Library of Medicine (NLM), the world's largest medical library, which is part of the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

Our mission is to present high-quality, relevant health and wellness information that is trusted, easy to understand, and free of advertising, in both English and Spanish. Anywhere, anytime, on any device—for free.”

<https://medlineplus.gov/>

RAND

“RAND is committed to critical issues of particular relevance to the public policy debate. Here you can browse work aggregated by Research Area from across a diverse organization composed of nearly 100 active projects, programs, and centers. At RAND, we share our research publications in digital format free of charge as a public service.”

Math

Institute of Education Sciences (IES)

“The Institute of Education Sciences (IES) is the statistics, research, and evaluation arm of the U.S. Department of Education. We are independent and non-partisan. Our mission is to provide scientific evidence on which to ground education practice and policy and to share this information in formats that are useful and accessible to educators, parents, policymakers, researchers, and the public.”

<https://nces.ed.gov/>

National Technical Information Services (NTIS)

“The National Technical Information Service (NTIS) helps federal agencies make better decisions about data, with data. We provide the support and structure that helps our partners securely store, analyze, sort, and aggregate data in new ways. We use our private-sector partners’ knowledge to create new ways of using data to solve problems. Our Joint Venture program works side-by-side with universities, nonprofits and industry professionals — together, they can experiment with data science technologies before they’re available in the marketplace.”

<https://www.ntis.gov/>

The Transportation Research Boards Research in Progress (RIP)

“The Transportation Research Board's Research in Progress (RIP) Database contains information on more than 12,000 current or recently completed transportation research projects. RIP records primarily are projects funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation and State Departments of Transportation. University transportation research also is included in the database.”

Science

INSPIRE

“INSPIRE is a trusted community hub that helps researchers to share and find accurate scholarly information in high energy physics.

It serves as a one-stop information platform for HEP community, comprising 8 interlinked databases on literature, conferences, institutions, journals, researchers, experiments, jobs and data. Run in collaboration by CERN, DESY, Fermilab, IHEP, IN2P3, and SLAC, it has been serving the scientific community for almost 50 years. Previously known as SPIRES, it was the first website outside Europe and the first database on the web. Close interaction with the user community and with arXiv, ADS, HEPData, ORCID, PDG and publishers is the backbone of INSPIRE’s evolution.”

<https://inspirehep.net/?ln=en>

ChemSpider

“ChemSpider is a free chemical structure database providing fast text and structure search access to over 67 million structures from hundreds of data sources.”

<http://www.chemspider.com/>

Economic Botany Collection

“The Economic Botany Collection (EBC) is one of the largest collections of specimens at the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew. It contains about 90,000 plant raw materials and artefacts representing all aspects of craft and daily life worldwide, including medicines, textiles, basketry, dyes, gums and resins, foods and woods.”

<https://ecbot.science.kew.org/>

NASA

“The National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958 challenged our Nation to grow our technical and scientific abilities in air and space. Since the 1970s, numerous economic reports and articles have demonstrated that NASA investments help grow the US economy. Perhaps most importantly NASA-funded R&D helped stimulate our long-term capacity for innovation and economic growth within the government, at universities, and at industrial companies. The disciplines advanced are many – including earth and space science, materials, computing and electronics, fuels, radio communications, safety, and even human health.

NASA advances the Nation’s space exploration, technology development, and scientific research endeavors, providing a scientific infrastructure that enables exploration today, tomorrow, and generations from now.”

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/funder/nasa/>

NIST-JANAF Thermochemical Tables

“The NIST-JANAF Thermochemical Tables website contains thermochemical data for more than 1,700 chemical compounds. The data on these compounds was taken from the printed volumes of the NIST-JANAF Thermochemical Tables.”

<https://janaf.nist.gov/>

TRID

“TRID is an integrated database that combines the records from TRB’s Transportation Research Information Services (TRIS) Database and the OECD’s Joint Transport Research Centre’s International Transport Research Documentation (ITRD) Database. TRID provides access to more than 1.25 million records of transportation research worldwide.”

<https://trid.trb.org/>

PlantFacts

“PlantFacts has merged several digital collections developed at Ohio State University to become an international knowledge bank and multimedia learning center.”

<https://plantfacts.osu.edu/s/pf/page/welcome>

Plantwise

“Plantwise is a global programme led by CABI, which helps farmers lose less of what they grow to plant health problems. Working closely with national agricultural advisory services we establish and support sustainable networks of plant clinics, run by trained plant doctors, where farmers can find practical plant health advice.”

<https://www.plantwise.org/knowledgebank/>

Science.gov

“Science.gov searches over 60 databases and over 2,200 scientific websites to provide users with access to more than 200 million pages of authoritative federal science information including research and development result.”

<https://www.science.gov/>
